

12 Days of Christmas

On the first day of Christmas fifty falcons frequently found their way to France.

On the second day of Christmas six salads slowly swam to Sweden.

On the third day of Christmas three thinking three-toed sloths thumped on a thumb.

On the fourth day of Christmas five ferrets made a Frenchmen furious by speaking French.

On the fifth day of Christmas fifteen fished found and flew around Finland after fishing season finished.

On the sixth day of Christmas seven snowmen were swept away by a soggy plate of spaghetti.

On the seventh day of Christmas sixty salamanders softly sang to the snowflake.

On the eighth day of Christmas eighty acorns ate away at an apple.

On the ninth day of Christmas ninety ninjas ate at Nandos, thinking about nothing.

On the tenth day of Christmas the T-Rex told Tanya to try to tap dance, she did timidly.

On the eleventh day of Christmas eighteen elephant entered the Eastern Kingdom with eggplants.

On the Twelfth day of Christmas twenty twins twiddled to Taiwan to train in tapping.

